INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT

International application No. PCT/EP 03/10724

I. Basis of the report

1. With regard to the elements of the international application (Replacement sheets which have been furnished to the receiving Office in response to an invitation under Article 14 are referred to in this report as "originally filed" and are not annexed to this report since they do not contain amendments (Rules 70.16 and 70.17)):

Description, Pages

1-47 as originally filed

Claims, Numbers

1-13 as originally filed

2. With regard to the language, all the elements marked above were available or furnished to this Authority in the language in which the international application was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

These elements were available or furnished to this Authority in the following language: , which is:

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of the international search (under Rule 23.1(b)).
☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:
☐ the claims, Nos.:
☐ the drawings, sheets:

5. ☐ This report has been established as if (some of) the amendments had not been made, since they have been considered to go beyond the disclosure as filed (Rule 70.2(c)).

(Any replacement sheet containing such amendments must be referred to under item 1 and annexed to this report.)

6. Additional observations, if necessary:

III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:
- ☐ the entire international application,
 - ☒ claims Nos. 10-13
because:
 - ☒ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. 10-13 relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):
see separate sheet
 - ☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
 - ☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.
 - ☐ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos.
2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:
- ☐ the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.
 - ☐ the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

POINT III.

For the assessment of the presently worded claims 10 to 13 on the question whether they are industrially applicable, no unified criteria exist in the PCT. The patentability can also be dependent upon the formulation of the claims. The EPO, for example, does not recognise as industrially applicable claims to the use of a compound in medical treatment, but will allow, however, claims to a known compound for first use in medical treatment and the use of such a compound for the manufacture of a new medical treatment.

POINT V.

The following documents, quoted in the I.S.R., have been considered as relevant for the examination of the present application. Their numbering will be adhered to for the rest of the procedure.

- (1) WO-A-02 22597.
- (2) EP-A-0 564 409.
- (3) WO-A-02 93164.

1. Novelty.

- 1.1 Insofar as (1) and (2) disclose examples of compounds which do not fall within the scope of present claims, they are novel with respect to the contents of those documents.
- 1.2 Although (3) as filed on 16.05.2002 and published on 21.11.2002 and claiming priority rights on 16.05.2001 up to 18.07.2001, is not prior art according to the Chap II PCT proceedings, its content will not affect the novelty of the regional European proceedings to come, because (3) discloses different compounds as those on file. Whether the content of (3) is relevant for the examination of the inventive step of the claimed matter will only be investigated in the European regional phase and will essentially depend on the examination of validity of the priority rights claimed by present application.

2. Inventiveness.

In view of the fact that present pharmacological active compounds on file differ merely from those disclosed in (1) and (2) by the substitution of the benzamido entity (see the definitions of R_1 - R_3 of the claimed compounds 1) they are likely to possess the same pharmacological profile as those disclosed in (1) and (2).

The Applicant will therefore be invited to show in the regional proceedings, either by argumentation or technical evidence, that the claimed compounds on file possess any advantage or surprising feature when they are compared with those of (1) and (2) in order to enable the acknowledgment of the inventiveness of the application with respect to the contents of those documents.

3. Formal Points.

- 3.1 (1) and (2) (possibly also (3) in the regional proceedings to come) should be mentioned and briefly discussed in the description
